

PROGRAM HARD HISTORIES

WORKSHOP
MARCH 21st
2024

WORKSHOP DESCRIPTION

As part of the exchange agreement between EHESS and JHU, members of the Hard Histories at Hopkins laboratory invite French colleagues to join them in comparing the historical approaches to “hard histories” taken by their respective research centers. They wish to extend the analysis to examine how these pasts persist in the present, and how their study helps to imagine a fairer future. By sharing current research while considering the diversity of conceptions of history and memory in France and the United States, this workshop will aim comparatively to elucidate what, in historical research, leads to self-examination, the destruction of myths and the breaking of silences. Finally, it will ask how this work can serve the communities it addresses.

THURSDAY, MARCH 21st 2024 / 9.30 am - 16.30 pm

EHESS, Room A05-51, 54, bd Raspail, Paris 6<sup>e</sup>

Organization :

EHESS (UMR 8168 - Mondes américains) and Johns Hopkins University (Department of History)

Please register : mpilatt1@jhu.edu

Speakers :

Mathilde Ackermann-Koenigs, CIRESC and Universität de Bielefeld

Jessica Balguy, CIRESC and Carnegie Mellon University

Myriam Cottias, CIRESC and Mondes américains (EHESS-CNRS)

Lauren Feldman, Johns Hopkins University

Ary Gordien, URMIS (Université Paris Cité)

Jean Hébrard, Mondes américains (EHESS-CNRS) and Johns Hopkins University (président)

Nadia Yala Kisukidi, Université Paris 8 Vincennes - Saint-Denis

Martha S. Jones, Johns Hopkins University

Maurie Pilatte, Johns Hopkins University

Marie-Jeanne Rossignol, Université Paris Cité

Maboula Soumahoro, Université de Tours and Institute for Ideas and Imagination,
Columbia Global Centers, Reid Hall, Paris